Dogs That Changed the World (Part 2) - Dogs by Design

Some working dogs are able to use their skills to perform tasks they were bred for; there are still jobs today for herders, hunters and guard dogs. But as we multiply and transform the many breeds of dogs, honing their looks and their sizes, we also change our relationship with them, and theirs with us. How can we learn to cope with the hard-wired instincts of our pets, and what roles can they play in a world their ancestors would hardly recognize?

8:00 American Experience | Jimmy Carter

Jimmy Who?/Hostage

Jimmy Carter rode into power on the post-Watergate disaffection with Washington politics, but his inexperience resulted in an ineffectual and fractured administration. The crowning achievement of his one term in office, the Camp David Accords that established a framework for peace in the Middle East, was the inspiration for his life after the White House. In the years since, Carter has recast himself as a giant of moral leadership, winning the Nobel Peace Prize in the process.

7:00 Secrets of the Dead

Aztec Massacre

Throughout recent times, historians have believed that the Spanish Conquistadors, who arrived in Aztec territory in the 15th century, were welcomed as returning light-skinned gods by the Aztecs, who put up little resistance to their conquest. Now, a new discovery outside Mexico City is turning history on its head: more than 550 bodies, many of which show signs of having been mutilated and even eaten.

8:00 American Experience

Nixon

One of the most controversial and enduring figures on the American political landscape, Richard Nixon was at the center of American politics for 25 years. From his boyhood in Yorba Linda, California, his days as a young anti-Communist crusader, his foreign policy initiatives in China and the Soviet Union, to his resignation from the presidency in the face of likely impeachment in 1974, Nixon was distinguished by his ability to come back from defeat.

7:00 Secrets of the Dead

Doping for Gold

In the 1970s, female East German athletes came out of nowhere to dominate international sport. But behind their success lay a secret, state-sponsored doping program that distributed untested steroids and male hormones to athletes as young as 12. Many of these girls had no knowledge that they were being doped, and now, as grown women (and men), their broken bodies and damaged psyches bear witness to the cruelty of a government that pursued international glory and gold at the expense of its most acclaimed citizens.

8:00 PBS NewsHour Debates 2008: A Special Report

Presidential Debate

The third presidential debate between Republican John McCain and Democrat Barack Obama focuses on foreign policy.

10:00 Questioning The Constitution

For more than 200 years, the United States Constitution—a document dictating a representative government by the people and for the people—has served as the foundation for the country and its citizens. Questioning The Constitution reveals the development and structure of the Constitution, its various interpretations and the debate surrounding its possible reformation.

16 THURSDAY

7:00 The This Old House Hour

The new season begins when host Kevin O'Connor and master carpenter Norm Abram reveal that This Old House will be building a new prefab, eco-friendly home that will look and feel like an old barn.

8:00 Liquid Assets: The Story of Our Water Infrastructure

Liquid Assets tells the story of essential infrastructure systems: water, wastewater, and stormwater. These systems—some in the ground for more than 100 years—provide a critical public health function and are essential for economic development and growth. Largely out of sight and out of mind, these aging systems have not been maintained, and some estimates suggest this is the single largest public works endeavor in our nation's history.

9:30 Get Ready for Digital TV

Parallel Worlds, Parallel Lives

Mark Oliver Everett, better known as E, is the lead singer of U.S. cult band the EELS. What most of his fans don't know is that Mark's father, Hugh Everett III, was one of America's top quantum physicists. In 1957, Hugh Everett came up with a revolutionary theory that predicted the existence of parallel universes. The idea quickly seeped into popular culture, but only recently has it been accepted by mainstream physicists.

7:00 Secrets of the Dead

Battle for the Bible

Some of the most famous words ever written are found in the most widely read book in history: the Bible in English. This film travels back in time to one of the most turbulent periods in history—the Reformation—to tell the extraordinary story of a group of men who set out on what they believed to be a divinely inspired mission: to bring the Scriptures to people in their own language for the first time.

8:00 Illuminated Bible

Amid the rolling hills of England's Monmouthshire, a team of artists are undertaking a seven-year task to handwrite and illuminate a new Bible, commissioned by the Benedictine monks of St John's Abbey in Minnesota. The monks chose the creation of the Bible as their means of commemorating the Millennium, and want the work to be accessible to all faiths. The Illuminated Bible tells the story of this remarkable four million dollar project which is the first of its kind in 500 years. Donald Jackson, a professional calligrapher and illuminator for 40 years (illumination is defined as "the play of light on gold"), is at the helm of this project.

White Falcon, White Wolf

On Canada's remote Ellesmere Island, where June is spring, July is summer and August is already autumn, the race is on for two remarkable species to raise their families.

The white gyrfalcon is enormous, the largest and most powerful falcon in the world. Yet last summer, the nesting falcon pair on the island failed to raise any young. The rare Arctic wolves rely on every member of the pack to chase and bring down the prey that keep them alive. Last year was good for them and they raised three cubs. But for the wolves and the falcons, as well as the snowy owls, musk oxen, lemmings, Arctic foxes and hares who share this fragile ecosystem with them, fortunes are always precarious. What will happen this year?
